

"Eyes With No Faces"

Eyes with no faces
That see through your soul
Flames that burn bright
In a circle that glows
Darkness around, some stars in the sky
A full moon behind trees
As clouds float by
One by one
They move around me
Eyes with no faces
Is all I can see
They give me a potion
It makes my eyes tired
But sleep does not come
For that is not desired
Naked on a slab
My hands are not free
One stands alone
He looks down on me
He holds in his hands, a dagger I see
It has a red jewel, like his eyes on me
He puts it inside me
Where no one should be
I feel it's cold steel
As my blood runs free
And the warmth of his mouth
As he sucks upon me
One by one I feel them in me
But the pain does not come
Because I, am not me
When they are done
They look down on me
Eyes with no faces
Is all I can see

By a Survivor of ritual abuse-torture

Donated January 5, 2003