

Intrusions

- simply that ... these images haunt us. Faceless starved people that were cut up. Once a child within made a friend with one of the dead people and tried to put them back together. Some of the walking dead were tricks. Dead people stimulated to move. The faceless faces of abusers that still linger. Sharpness. swords. and death ... we still feel compelled to draw these regularly ... images planted in our brain.

... A RAT Survivor

Donated November 25, 2003